Roster Includes Leaders In All Nazi Activities

LONDON (CP)—The four major western Allies today named 24 Nazi leaders and Prussian military chiefs—among them Herman Goering, Rudolf Hess, Wilhelm Keitel and Karl Doenitz—as defendants in the first mass trial of Germany's arch criminals early in October.

The list furnished the first evidence that Hess, Deputy Fuehrer for all Nazi party affairs until 1941, when he made his sensational flight to England, was considered mentally able to stand trial with his one-time associates. Hess once was successor-designate to Hitler.

The list includes the name of Martin Bormann, Hitler's secretary. There had been no evidence previously of Bormann's whereabouts despite unconfirmed reports that he and Hitler had perished together. Bormann was Hess' successor as deputy party leader.

The full list follows: Hermann Wilhelm Goering, who was designated successor to Hitler in September, 1939, and directed the Nazi air offensive.

Rudolf Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop, who directed Nazi intrigue in half a dozen European capitals as Germany's Foreign Minister.

Robert Ley, chief of the Nazi party organization and chief of the German Labor Front.

IDEOLOGY CHIEF
 Alfred Rosenberg, Reich leader for ideology and foreign policy and propagandist, who took a leading role in anti-Semitism in Germany.

Hans Frank, who was Governor-General of Poland and an S.S. General.

Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Hitler's right-hand man, chief of the Reich Security Department and chief of criminal police.

Wilhelm Frick, Minister of the Interior and ruler of Bohemia and Moravia.

Julius Streicher, Gauleiter of Franconia, editor of Der Sturmer and notorious anti-Semite.

Field-Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the Wehrmacht.

Dr. Walther Funk, president of the Reichsbank.

Hjalmar Schacht, Minister of Economics, commissioner of the four-year plan, and former president of the Reichsbank.

Admiral Karl Doenitz, Commander-in-chief of the Navy, director of U-boat warfare, and the man who took over rule of Germany after Hitler was reported dead.

Baldur von Schirach, chief of the Reich Youth Movement and ruler of Vienna.

Fritz Sauckel, manpower commissioner.

Albert Speer, chief of the Todt organization, which used slave labor.

Martin Bormann, Hitler's secretary, deputy party leader, a general in the S.S. and S.A.

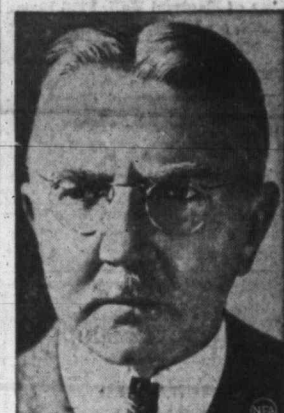

Franz von Papen, former ambassador to Austria and Turkey.

Col.-Gen. Alfred Gustav Jodl, Chief of Staff of the Wehrmacht.

Constantin von Neurath, Reichsminister of Foreign Affairs until 1938, "Protector" of Bohemia and Moravia for two years, and president of Hitler's secret cabinet council.

Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, commissioner for the occupied Netherlands.

Admiral Erich Raeder, inspector of the German navy and commander-in-chief of the navy from 1928 until 1943.

Hans Fritzsche, chief of the German radio propaganda service.

Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, war industrialist.

The list was drawn up by the chief of the war crimes prosecutors for Britain, the United States, France and Russia.

The trial probably will get under way early in October in a little courtroom at Nuremberg.

A statement of the four prosecutors said that "investigations are going forward of cases of other war criminals who have not been included in this list."

Ask Cancellation Of Relief Debts

REGINA (CP)—The finding of the arbitral tribunal set up to consider the seed grain loan dispute with Saskatchewan "makes it imperative that before another agreement is reached by which the provinces relinquish their right to collect income, corporation and inheritance taxes all relief debts of the provinces to the Dominion be canceled," Attorney-General J. W. Cormack said today.

S.C. In B.C. Election

EDMONTON (CP)—Solon E. Low, Social Credit M.P.-elect for Peace River and national leader of the party, said in an interview here today that Social Crediters in British Columbia plan as far as possible to contest all 48 constituencies in that province in the next provincial general election.

Work Ends-No Strike

COLLINGWOOD, Ont. (CP)—Officials of the Clyde Aircraft Co. said today 198 employees had been laid off as a result of cancellations of Mosquito bomber sub-contracts, but added that reports of an impending sitdown strike were unfounded.

Russell Buie, chairman of the employees' relations committee, said "there is absolutely no sitdown strike contemplated."

Canada, France On Threshold Of New Friendship, Says de Gaulle

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and France are on the threshold of a vast expansion in their mutual relationships, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, head of the French government, said at a press conference here today.

"Your place in world affairs is getting larger every day," he said of Canada. "It is fully justified. We have no conflict of interest. We have many things in common, France and Canada."

France and Canada should act together as much as possible.

TALKED WITH 40

The general received some 40 press correspondents in the French ambassador's office at the embassy and then moved on to lay a wreath on the National War Memorial and continue a heavy round of engagements which filled up his one-day visit to the last minute.

The general looked considerably older than on his first visit to Ottawa a year ago last July. His face was less youthful and his hair was turning grey, but he spoke with more ease and assurance after more than a year as head of the government in liberated France.

He spoke in French and his remarks were translated into English. Questions addressed to him in English were translated into French.

He said he was happy to be in Ottawa and considered his personal contact with Prime Minister King of the greatest importance.

General Election In Japan Likely By End Of Year

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Japan will hold a general national election soon, probably before Jan. 1, a Domei dispatch reported today. The last general election choosing present members of Japan's House of Representatives took place April 30, 1942.

Home Ministry authorities pointed to technical difficulties: Lists of eligible voters were burned by Allied bombings in many cities; and there was widespread shifting of population. Lower house sources, however, Domei said, held that body responsible for the outcome of the war and seek a new start by a general election.

The cabinet meanwhile relaxed somewhat the nation's wartime restrictions on political activity and on freedom of the press.

Restrictions will remain, however, Domei said, where activities are "likely to compromise the national policy" or "threaten to disturb national unity."

The Domei broadcast was one of a number recorded here by the Federal Communications Commission indicating domestic agencies of the Japanese government are striving to return the nation to a peacetime footing.

PLAN RESEARCH

Besides cutting down the restrictions on expression and assembly, the cabinet instituted a research institute which will act as a form of central planning council for the reconstruction program and the Japanese education ministry ordered schools opened again by Sept. 15.

In a newspaper article, Michio Ozaki, chief of the Japanese Asiatic board of the Japanese Christian Association, wrote in the newspaper Yomiuri Hoci that he was convinced neither the people of the U.S. nor the Japanese as a whole understand each other. He warned the Japanese "we should not form a hasty conclusion of the Americans as a whole by such trifles as occasional violence" during the occupation period.

Domei reported that as an aid to Allied occupation, telephone girls in Yokohama all have been taking courses in conversational English.

First Flying Furniture Van Crashes on First Flight

An attempt to make commercial air history met disaster when the "Flying Tiger" crashed and caught on fire at a Detroit airfield. Above photo shows the furniture blazing in the wreckage. The "flying moving van" was loaded with furniture and was pioneering long-distance moving by air with the flight scheduled from Detroit to Los Angeles. Complete household goods of five Detroit families were on board the plane. It was planned that the scheme would be international with Windsor as the Canadian end. The cargo plane, originally built for the United States Navy, crash-landed immediately after taking off.

Represents Australia

Signing Japan's surrender will be Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, above, for Australia.

MacArthur Flies To Okinawa Ready To Enter Japan

OKINAWA (AP)—Gen. MacArthur flew to Okinawa and powerful units of the 3rd Fleet anchored in Tokyo Bay today, preparatory to the first mass occupation of vanquished Japan by 17,500 British and U.S. soldiers, sailors and marines landing tomorrow from the air and sea.

Gen. MacArthur flew from Manila with his headquarters staff to Okinawa, where troops scheduled to begin landing at dawn tomorrow at the Atsugi airfield.

Admiral Halsey, whose 16-inch battleship guns will cover the simultaneous seaborne landing at the Yokosuka naval base, steamed into Tokyo Bay aboard the battleship Missouri, on which the surrender will be signed Sunday.

The Missouri was followed by a line of other warships, including H.M.S. Duke of York, conqueror in the Atlantic of the German Scharnhorst and now flagship of Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser.

READY FOR ACTION

Other major units of the combined fleets lay across Miura Peninsula in Sagami Bay or stood in the Pacific Ocean outside the bay, ready for instant action and to send their swarms of carrier planes to cover the joint landings.

Vice-Admiral Fletcher's North Pacific naval force of escort carriers, cruisers and destroyers prepared to sail for Japan to join the occupation fleet. It will arrive after the landing of the 10,000 U.S. and British marines and sailors at Yokosuka and probably will be assigned to patrol northern Japanese waters.

3 Jap Subs Taken

GUAM (AP)—Three Japanese submarines have surrendered and been placed under prize crews. The Japanese crews in all instances were co-operative and offered no resistance.

Autopsy May Prove Murder In Sawdust Bin Death

An autopsy was held today to determine the cause of death of 18-year-old Phyllis Stroud, whose body was uncovered Tuesday in a sawdust bin in the basement of her home at 2658 Roseberry Avenue.

Dr. D. B. Roxburgh conducted the autopsy after city coroner, Dr. E. C. Hart, had viewed the remains. Dr. Roxburgh returned from Seattle to make the post mortem.

While the body lay at Thomson Funeral Home, city detectives sought every shred of information bearing on the case, spurred by the fact that murder was indicated by the discovery of the body, partly decomposed and scantily clad, under the sawdust in a large bin in the basement.

MISSING 13 DAYS

Phyllis Stroud had been missing for 13 days when her body was discovered by Detectives Louis Callon and Angus Munro. She had been reported seen for the last time at Douglas and Yates Streets about 11 p.m. on V-J Day, during the boisterous celebration of victory.

Members of the girl's family and friends were questioned by detectives to gain any possible clue to events leading up to her death. Her sister, Doris, who started the search for her by reporting the disappearance to the police, was taken to an undisclosed place in the country after detectives and Policewoman Alice K. Pye had broken to her the news of her sister's end. The detectives also made a minute examination of the house.

Other members of the family living in the second story of the Stroud house were the father, Carroll Stroud; an uncle, Lawrence Stroud, and a brother, 20-year-old Donald. Other tenants occupied the ground floor of the house.

"FRIENDLY, HAPPY GIRL"

The sobbing father and the brother were seen Tuesday meeting relatives on the veranda of the home. Young friends of the apparently-murdered girl grieved at her death, saying that she had always been a friendly, happy girl, active in the Anglican Young People's Association of her church and interested in her office work at Scott & Peden's.

Chief of Police J. A. McLellan said that every resource of the city police department would be used to find a solution to the mystery of Phyllis Stroud's death. Detective Inspector J. H. Rogers is conducting the case, helped by Detectives Callon, Munro, Donaldson, Jarvis, Richards and Woodburn.

Acts For Britain

On behalf of Great Britain, Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, above, will sign Japan's surrender next Sunday. His flagship, the battleship Duke of York, is now at anchor with the Allied fleet in Tokyo Bay.

Big Air Force Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—Air Vice Marshal Raymond Collishaw, R.C.A.F., Vancouver, speaking to a Vancouver service club, said immediate attention must be given to maintenance of an effective air force in Canada in respect of postwar conditions.

Maintaining the air force would assist in providing employment. For every man in the air at least 10 are required on the ground, he said.

Truman Rejects Report Blaming Marshall for Pearl Harbor Blow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, United States Army Chief of Staff, was held partly responsible for the Pearl Harbor disaster by an army board of inquiry, but President Truman, in releasing the report today, said the criticism was "entirely unjustified."

The President, who called a special news conference to release the long-awaited army and navy reports on the events leading up to Dec. 7, 1941, said he sided with War Secretary Henry Stimson in rejecting the findings as to Gen. Marshall.

The bulky three-volume reports were sharply critical of Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, Admiral Harold R. Stark and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short.

Mr. Truman told reporters that if court-martial proceedings were indicated prompt and fair trials would be held.

Jap People Pose Problem

Allied occupation forces in Japan will have to control an area slightly smaller than California, as indicated on maps above, drawn to the same scale. However, crowded into Japan's narrow confines are nearly a dozen times as many people as California holds. Keeping them in line will be one of the principal problems of the Allied commanders.

Chiang Optimistic As Conference With Communist Leader Begins

CHUNGKING (AP)—Associates of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek declared today he was "most optimistic about the future of China" following his first meeting with Mao Tse-tung, Chinese Communist leader.

Gen. Chiang entertained Mao at dinner Tuesday evening shortly after the latter's arrival by plane from Yenan for conferences aimed at settling the differences between the national government and North China Communists and saving the nation from possible civil war.

Mao issued a statement on his arrival in which he expressed his appreciation of Gen. Chiang's invitation and voiced his hope that "all anti-Japanese political parties and patriots in China" would unite in the task of peaceful reconstruction of the country.

He was accompanied by Gen. Chou En-lai, deputy leader of the Communist Party, and Wang Jofei, who served at one time as Communist representative in Chungking.

The party arrived in the company of Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, United States ambassador to China, who had flown to Yenan to get the Communist leader and guarantee his safety.

The Chinese high command announced today that national government troops had entered Peiping, on which Chinese Communist forces earlier had been reported advancing.

The entry actually was made Aug. 17, the high command said, by troops under Gen. Hu Ching-nan.

(A Peiping dispatch broadcast.

GEN. MAO TSE-TUNG

by the Tokyo radio said Japanese military authorities had announced that "sizeable units of the Chinese armed forces and some troops of the United States forces in China" were to begin entering the Peiping-Tientsin area by aerial transports Tuesday.

The high command also disclosed reoccupation of many more towns including the important centre of Kailfeng (Aug. 19) and Chungmow, both on the Lunghai railway. Others included:

Honan province—Sinsiang, Iushan, Linju and Junan.
Hunan province—Anjen and Chenhsien.
Anhui province—Kiangpu and Pohnien.

C.N.R. Did Tremendous Job In War; President Gives Thanks

MONTREAL (Special)—In a message addressed to the Canadian public, R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, today expressed the system's thanks for the co-operation given it during the war by the millions of train and ship passengers, shippers of freight and express, hotel guests, and patrons of the telegraph and other services.

The Canadian National's ability to fulfill its gigantic war duty "to the credit and satisfaction of the nation," he said, "is due not only to the skill, devotion and zeal of those who are our workers, but in large measure also to the Canadian public who, by their generous responses to appeals for help and their uncomplaining acceptance of restrictions and controls, lightened our burden."

He made particular mention of "the unnumbered citizens who refrained from traveling needlessly as their contribution to the common cause."

4,000,000 TROOPS CARRIED
From the outbreak of the war in September, 1939, to V-J Day, Canadian National passenger train miles amounted to more than 138,000,000, according to the Bureau of Statistics. Passenger car miles totaled more than 1,217,000,000. It is estimated that more than 153,000,000 passengers were carried.

Up to the end of last year, more than 4,000,000 troops had been transported in 6,540 special trains. The movement of troops returning home from overseas is still continuing and figures are not yet available concerning its size, but two-thirds of all troop trains required for these movements are being provided by the Canadian National. Special women's trains, operated to and from war plants, carried over 41,000,000 passengers. Nearly 26,000,000 meals were served to military and civilian passengers on Canadian National diners during the war period.

The Canadian National hauled more than 491,000,000 tons of freight during the war. Freight train miles aggregated more than 246,000,000 freight car miles, nearly 11,000,000,000; net ton miles, more than 196,000,000,000.

Vessels owned and operated by the Canadian National steamships traveled 4,500,000 miles in war service and a number were victims of enemy action. Three were converted into fighting naval units and one, the Lady Nelson, was Canada's first hospital ship.

T.C.A.'S BIG EFFORTS
Trans-Canada Air Lines aircraft flew some 45,000,000 miles, carrying more than 600,000 passengers, approximately 14,000,000 pounds of mail and 2,500,000 pounds of express.

The railway's drydock and shipyard at Prince Rupert built minesweepers and freighters.

National Railways Munitions Limited at Montreal constructed naval guns and carriages and other war equipment.

In co-operation with the R.C.A.M.C., the architect's department designed special hospital cars which were constructed by the car equipment department and shops of the company. Officers of the system organized wartime censorship and public information in 1939 and 1940.

Nearly 25,000 men and women of the C.N.R. enlisted in the armed forces, in the merchant navy or were on special war duty with the government. Many of them won decorations for gallantry and distinguished service.

GREAT TASK AHEAD

"The surrender of the last enemy had ended the fighting but it has not ended the war job of the Canadian National Railways," concluded Mr. Vaughan's message, "the men and women in the services have to be brought home without delay and for that purpose we shall continue to employ all our available passenger equipment. Millions of tons of materials must be transported for industrial reconversion. In carrying out these and other extensions of our war job, we hope we may continue to enjoy the understanding of the Canadian public."

Farmers Don't Want Grain Pit Opened

SASKATOON (CP)—Prairie farmers would protest any attempt to revert to an open market in wheat on the Winnipeg grain exchange, said George Bickerton, past president, United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, here Tuesday.

Reports have been current that the government might permit trading in wheat futures, halted in 1943, but Trade Minister MacKinnon in Ottawa said there was no intention of permitting open futures trade.

Mr. Bickerton criticized open market trading in wheat, permitted through the war, as a "gambling medium," he said. He referred to "crazy fluctuations," and said wheat had fluctuated between 56 cents a bushel last fall and $1.35 in recent weeks.

Greece Now Without Scrap of Fresh Meat

OTTAWA (CP)—Greece, which suffered almost complete annihilation of her livestock under Fascist aggression and German onslaught, now is a country without a scrap of fresh meat for her people, Philon Philon, charge d'affaires of the Greek Legation here, said Tuesday in a statement issued through the Prices Board.

Appealing for any meat which Canada could send to Greece, he said that "if the war had gone on another couple of years, our people would have been exterminated."

Weyerhaeuser Plans Big Pulp Industry

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP)—J. P. Weyerhaeuser Jr., executive vice-president, announced Tuesday the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co. is prepared to start expansion of its pulp division here. Contractors estimated the program would cost $3,000,000. It is designed to provide 250 additional permanent jobs, practically doubling the present roster, and increase the division's payroll by $800,000 a year.

Drive to Make Palestine Home For 3,000,000 of Europe's Jews

WASHINGTON (CP)—Establishment of a Hebrew nation in Palestine, with all the prerogatives of a member of the United Nations family, is the objective of the Hebrew Committee for National Liberation now preparing to launch a concentrated drive from its new headquarters here.

The proposal is to obtain United Nations assistance in setting up a Hebrew national territory in the Holy Land, open to the 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 homeless, stateless Hebrews left in the war wreckage of Europe.

Nucleus of the Hebrew nation would be almost 500,000 Hebrews already settled in Palestine as a result of the World Zionist movement dedicated to restoring the Holy Land to the Hebrew race.

THEIR CLASSIFICATION

The committee differentiates between the terms "Hebrew" and "Jew," in that the former refers to members of the Hebrew race who have no other nationality, whereas those of the Jewish religion may be and are members of many nationalities—about 5,000,000 of them U.S. citizens.

The committee, headed by Peter Bergson, himself a Palestine Jew, recently set itself up to seek recognition of the Hebrews as a nation, pledged to give way to a properly elected administration when it is possible for the Hebrew nation to hold free elections.

Palestine, which includes the holy places of Bethlehem, Nazareth and Jerusalem, is about the size of Wales. It was a part of the Turkish empire in 1914 and had a population of 630,000, of whom 90,000 were Hebrews.

2-Day Recess In Quisling Trial

OSLO (CP)—After sitting for less than one hour, today's session of the treason trial of Vidkun Quisling was adjourned until Aug. 31 when presiding justice Erik Solheim was advised that Quisling was too ill to attend court today.

Justice Solheim read reports from physicians that said the former puppet premier was sane, but that a strenuous brain ex-

To Probe Charges Of R.C.A.F. Waste

OTTAWA (CP)—Full inquiry into the disposal of certain surplus signals equipment at the R.C.A.F. station at Penhold, Alta., was ordered Tuesday by Air Minister Gibson.

As a result Air Commodore S. G. Tackaberry, an officer on the special duties list at R.C.A.F. headquarters, was ordered to proceed at once to Penhold to inquire into the circumstances and make a report.

Announcement of the inquiry followed by a day, a charge by Arthur H. Wray, Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature for Banff-Cochrane, that Air Force technical equipment was being destroyed at the Penhold air base.

In a statement issued in Calgary, Mr. Wray said much of the $600,000 worth of equipment at Penhold had already been destroyed, and more "will be put under sledge hammers and bulldozers this week."

Nanaimo To Form Flying Club

A flying club will be formed in Nanaimo following a meeting of 35 air-minded citizens who appointed a committee, headed by Howard Matthews, to obtain information regarding necessary procedure for formation of the club.

Information on cost of planes and incorporation will be sought. Chairman of the committee was a pilot in the war but it was emphasized that the club was not to be confined to air personnel of the war but to all civilians who wish to learn to fly. Mayor E. Jamieson of Ladysmith attended the meeting and said that a number from his city have expressed their intention of joining.

PAY-OFF IN JAPAN

WHAT JAPAN BEGAN WITH FIRE AND fury on Dec. 7, 1941, the victorious Allied forces under the command of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur will finish with the orderly invasion of the Nipponese home islands in the next few days. A vanguard composed of a few officers and several hundreds of technicians already have arrived on one of Tokyo's important airfields to prepare for the waiting hosts who will be more or less representative of the United Nations. If no untoward incident occurs, the official formalities of unconditional surrender will proceed on schedule; the nation which set out to dominate the whole of Asia nearly 45 months ago will begin a long period of exacting penance. How she eventually emerges from her punishment will depend largely upon the manner of her behaviour.

It would be gratuitous to speculate upon the nature of the general reception awaiting the occupation forces. No special significance need be attached to the "polite-as-pie" attitude manifested toward the airborne vanguard. The traditional characteristics of offensive Nipponese palaver and fulsome polish will be discounted in advance by the conquerors. Such displays will fool nobody. And when Tokyo's influential newspaper Asahi Shimbun tells the Japanese people to "abandon militarism," blaming it for the country's "miserable defeat," leaders in the Allied world will recall how this same journal lent its columns to every form of propaganda from the day of Pearl Harbor until the emperor agreed to the terms of surrender. Such journalistic inflections, however, may impress a disillusioned populace and help to simplify the difficult and delicate task with which the visiting soldiery will be confronted for months, and perhaps years.

Regardless of the monotony with which these occupational forces will have to put up, however, there will be no disposition to let those in Japan who have wielded any sort of authority forget that their days of trouble-making have gone forever. Unlike Germany, this is the first time Japan has felt the presence of a victorious foreign army; but this is all the more reason why any potential Nipponese imitator of the late Adolf Hitler should think twice before embarking on the role of a deliverer of his homeland from Allied "bondage." When enemy emissaries sign on the dotted line it will be the pay-off for the Mukden "incident" and the assault on Pearl Harbor. And the Munich age belongs to the past.

THREE CHEERS...

THERE IS A GOOD DEAL OF TRUTH in the statement of Michio Ozaki, chief of the American-Asiatic Board of Japanese Christian Association, that Americans and Japanese do not understand each other. Take, for instance, the Japanese painted sign across the top of a Yokohama factory. It read "Three Cheers for the U.S. Navy and Army." An attitude represented by such a banner appears totally incomprehensible in a nation which so recently fought tooth and nail to kill the men of the forces the sign is cheering today.

It would be quite understandable if Japan were welcoming international delegates to a service club convention or the members of a visiting athletic team. But it implies a complete lack of appreciation for the character of the forces now moving into the home islands. The events of the immediate future are not occasions for feigning and back-slapping.

The sign may be a purely superficial symbol of good fellowship for business purposes, but its very existence seems to emphasize the differences between the mentalities of those who appear to consider themselves hosts and the "guests" who have a very serious job before them. Unfortunately, less innocent expressions of differences in thinking can be expected before the decisions of the victorious nations are implemented. The whole pattern of converting Japan from an aggressor nation to one acceptable to a world cherishing freedom and peace must be worked against the backdrop of this lack of understanding.

A WART ON HER NOSE

IF SOME VANDAL WERE TO TAKE THE picture of a famous beauty, executed by one of the masters, and superimpose a wart on the beauty's nose, the result would be something similar to the effect the construction of unsuitable structures on Victoria's artistic Inner Harbor front would create. Yet that was the suggestion advanced to the City Council this week as it moved to protect the area through amendment of its zoning by-law. It had been assumed that the property in question would be used for the construction of a building in keeping with Victoria's architecturally elegant "front door."

When the city heard rumors to the effect that it was to be sold for a gasoline station, civic authorities expressed their concern by seeking to protect the locality. That effort at protection was confronted by the argument that if re-zoning jeopardized the owner's chances of selling the block as a unit, it was possible that it would be divided and sold in smaller lots, leaving the way open to the building there of "cheap shops and little stores catering to the tourists coming off the boats." It is difficult to believe that the suggestion was advanced seriously. It is not snobbery which evokes the protest. It is merely a desire to increase the beauty of an approach which has won international praise. It must be frankly admitted that development in that region is long overdue. But tardiness should not be an excuse for considering the introduction of structures entirely out of keeping with the general surroundings.

If there is some special urgency for a sale, would it not be propitious for the provincial government, now using accommodation in buildings throughout town, to consider an early start on postwar reconstruction through consolidation of orphaned branches in a new home in that location? Such a procedure would centralize the administrative organizations of government and at the same time protect this spot from ill-considered development along architecturally undesirable lines.

IS THIS INTERFERENCE?

IF REUTERS CORRESPONDENT IN Rome is correct in his information that the Roman Catholic Church intends to intervene in the coming electoral struggle in Italy, and that a circular from the "Sacred Consistorial Congregation" has informed all Catholics that they "can vote only for lists which respect the observance of Divine Law and the rights of the Church," the governments of the United Kingdom, the United States and the Soviet Union will be derelict in their duty if they do not invoke the decision of the Yalta conference respecting "free and unfettered elections."

No right-thinking person will seriously object to blanket advice which advocates the casting of a ballot for candidates who will pledge themselves to uphold the Divine Law. This is a basic injunction which should offend the susceptibilities of none. But it does not require the profundity of an ecclesiastical scholar to detect in the instruction respecting the "rights of the Church" a consideration with dangerous potentialities. And another part of the circular should be carefully noted. It is that which informs the bishops—and the "Sacred Consistorial Congregation" has full authority over them in all political matters—that "to the extent to which the program and practical behaviour of candidates guarantees" observance of the two conditions, "Catholics may vote for them."

Nothing in the foregoing is intended, and it cannot be so interpreted, to emphasize a conflict between Protestant and Catholic. The impartial reader of the circular will divorce all such considerations from his mind. But it requires no imagination to read into the phrase, "the rights of the Church," a disturbing edict which conceivably may run counter to those fundamental principles which must be complied with if the United Nations' demand for "free and unfettered elections" is to be satisfied.

The elections which were to be held in Bulgaria last Sunday were postponed for the good and sufficient reason that the governments of Great Britain and the United States—perhaps Russia as well—were not satisfied with the operations of the present administration in Sofia. Neither in Bulgaria, Hungary nor Romania is the government "broadly representative of the democratic elements." How on earth is Italy to be provided with a national governing body conforming to these requirements if the voters are to be influenced beforehand by any agency which is not in the mood to accept practical democracy—regardless of the agency from which the individual derives his or her spiritual inspiration?

WHAT 'MESS' DID HE MEAN?

ALBERTA'S LIQUOR COMMISSIONER King, speaking on behalf of his provincial colleagues assembled in secret session in Toronto last week, took in a good deal of territory when he said "if it hadn't been for the mess we are in now." This was part of a negative reply to an inquiry as to whether he thought the press should be told something about the proceedings so that the public might be informed.

Just what does Alberta's Mr. King mean by the "mess" for which he blames the newspapers? The provincial liquor commissioners, were dealing with the public's business; and for that reason alone, if for no other, it was their duty to give out some information. They were not discussing some fine point of diplomatic import or what to do with the atomic bomb.

It is about time those "drest in a little brief authority" began to realize that wartime controls have nothing to do with the dissemination of news which rightly belongs to the public. Even if the enemy's last military threat had not vanished, no militarist in Japan would get any comfort from advance notice of the future strength of alcoholic beverages which Canadians may obtain under the law.

Relief for Europe

By BEN MALKIN

THE ANNOUNCEMENT by Donald Gordon, chairman of the Prices Board, that Canada is making no changes in her plans to reinstitute meat rationing next month should make it plain to everyone that Canada cannot meet her obligations with respect to providing relief in Europe unless rationing is imposed here.

Mr. Gordon's viewpoint that any temporary glut on Canadian livestock markets should for the time being mean more meat for Europe, not more meat for Canada, reveals an attitude toward the problem of relief that will be welcomed by everyone anxious to see the prospect of hunger in Europe this winter mitigated as much as possible.

Said Mr. Gordon:

"My understanding is that the needs of the famine-stricken areas remain most urgent, and that there is a serious immediate food shortage particularly in meat in those areas."

"Consequently, if there is an improvement in immediate supply, it would be a godsend for the hungry people of the liberated areas and it should not mean that these improved supplies be used to increase the North American consumption through the lifting of meat rationing."

"At any rate, that is my understanding of government policy and so far as Canada is concerned no change in our plans for the re-imposition of meat rationing is under consideration."

THIS MAKES the attitude of the government plain enough. Rationing will remain in force. If more meat is produced in Canada than was anticipated, rationing will still remain in force. The extra meat will go abroad. Nothing could be plainer, and in view of the desperate food situation in Europe, nothing could be more fair.

How desperate the need for food, particularly meat and fats, is in Europe cannot be stressed too often. At a press conference in London on Aug. 3, Mr. Herbert Lehman, director-general of UNRRA, again underlined the pressing necessity for more food in Europe when he said:

"There is no doubt in my mind that the economic conditions confronting Europe in the coming winter will be such as to strain the political and economic structure of the Continent so seriously that the consequence may do incalculable harm to all our hopes for a permanent peaceful settlement of European affairs. This is, I believe, the most serious single problem facing the United Nations today."

And in a recent broadcast Mr. Lehman reiterated:

General Eisenhower stated that the first great need of Europe is food. By late autumn the harvest will have been largely exhausted. After that Europe must depend heavily upon food imported from abroad. The alternative is starvation.

HERE IS A PLAIN statement of fact. No one can argue with it. Either we, and other food-producing countries, send Europe every scrap of food we can possibly spare, or Europe will starve. To bicker and quarrel with one another as to whether rationing is necessary, or to dispute with other countries as to who is doing more, is a mean, petty attitude. Rationing will not be so severe in Canada as to cause more than a little inconvenience. It will certainly not cause any real hardship, or even real discomfort.

Much of the food which Canadians will contribute will not be paid for from abroad. Liberated countries of western Europe hope to pay for their own supplies and organize their own relief. But six countries—and they are, with the exception of Holland, the most stricken countries of Europe—will be unable to pay for their supplies and these will therefore be in the nature of a gift. Let the gift be freely and generously given.

THESE COUNTRIES are Greece, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Albania and Italy. If supplies become available in large enough quantities and in good time, it will be possible to avert much of the famine which now threatens these and other countries, for with the end of the Pacific war a greater quantity of cargo tonnage should now be available to the relief agencies than was foreseen even a month ago.

The urgency of the problem was noted in an article in the Manchester Guardian of Aug. 7 in these words:

"The coming winter will mean certain death by frost or famine to large numbers of people throughout the Continent. Nothing we can now do will prevent the scale of disaster and prevent its destroying what is left of the social fabric of Europe. August, September, October, November, then snow and frozen rivers. Four months to save Europe."

THIS IS THE PROBLEM, then, that Canada can help so greatly to solve. In the face of these facts, few people will quarrel with the government's intention to reinstitute rationing in September.

NEWSPAPER'S VALUE

From the Edmonton Bulletin

On Sunday, July 1, the majority of readers of New York's metropolitan dailies had to do without their newspapers because of the strike of the newspaper and mail deliverers' union.

The situation was seized to discover just what value the average reader placed on his daily newspaper. The survey revealed some interesting facts.

To the question "Is radio completely filling your need for news?" 76.6 per cent of those queried gave a resounding "No."

To the question "What part of the national and local news are you missing?" 74.2 per cent replied "Most of it."

Of the women who were asked if they missed the advertising in their papers, 79.1 per cent answered that they missed it "very much."

No survey in recent years has served to emphasize the indispensability of the newspaper, the inadequacy of radio news as a substitute and the tremendous variety of interests which bind people everywhere to their daily newspapers.

A Letter From London

By MARY E. M. REES

Mrs. Rees, widow of the former Sunday Times editor, Leonard Rees, and formerly Mollie McLeod Moore, whose contributions to Saturday Night were widely read, in a letter to friends, gives a few impressions of London when victory in Europe freed it at the shadow of violent death, injury and loss of home and possessions. During the war she served as an air warden. Excerpts from her letter follow.

ONCE at our A.R.P. I read out some very flattering remarks from an overseas paper and said to the men in the room: "I suppose we were pretty brave," whereupon one of them said in genuine surprise: "What else could we have done?" All through the war, when I was in somewhat tight places, as we all were from time to time, I used to repeat to myself a saying from Mrs. Browning which I read years ago and liked. "It is very good for strength to know that someone needs you to be strong." Mr. Churchill must have felt that.

WHAT I started out to say was about London after V-Day. For years we had waited for that time when it came the chief universal feeling was a deep relief. Excitement no, except with some of the very young people, but an extraordinary feeling of a load lifted. Not that it was felt all at once and all the time, for if you have lived for years knowing that death was near at all hours you do not quite get rid of that feeling in a week. The sound of a car changing gear would make one think of the first notes of the siren, and when I am awakened at night by a motor (we have an ambulance station in the next street) my first thought is "the ambulances are called out. The alert must have gone and I slept through it." But thank God there is no crash and roar of guns and bombs hour after hour.

It is wonderful to be able to leave the windows unshaded and not be startled by a lighted window in a neighbouring street knowing that it may bring a bomber straight to that spot. And as to the planes, for days and days after V-Day the bombers "roared" over very low, but we knew with joy that they were bringing back the prisoners of war and wounded, not bringing bombs to kill our people, not taking bombs to the enemy countries. Often as I watched and listened to them I wondered what reunions there were and how many women were saying, "This, my son, was dead and is alive again—was lost and is found."

THERE are many signs of the times now. The shelters are being removed gradually, and sandbags with the contents spilled on the pavements are familiar sights, the blast walls are being demolished, and the signs telling the way to gas cleansing stations and first aid posts, A.R.P. posts and rest centres are disappearing. Also the gummed net on the windows to save us from glass splinters.

Torches are a drug in the market after years of torches and batteries being an important part of our equipment. One no longer needs to be sure that a torch is handy by the bedside and others in convenient places, one's shoes ready to slip into and a tin hat at hand. These things are now souvenirs, though we in the Civil Defence (now demobilized) have a very useful souvenir in the uniforms and handsome uniform great-coats which we are allowed to keep and to have altered to suit our peacetime needs—and no coupons for them either.

One of the most pleasing signs of the times is the sight of so many children in London streets. They have been coming back for the last month after being away for years in safe areas, and there are talks on the wireless telling people how to help the children to re-adjust themselves to home life again after living so long with foster parents—a sad sight on what the war has meant.

SOME optimists asked me if we were getting food that we had not seen for years! On the contrary our rations (over which I hear American visitors in the catering business expressed horror) have been cut that we may help the starving people of Europe. Happily our 2 ounces weekly of tea remains and is to be increased by ½-oz. weekly in another month. Even Mr. Churchill could have hardly escaped reproaches had the government touched our little tea ration, as most people drink tea twice daily. If you ask me how we do it on 2 ounces weekly, I don't know. We now have 3 ounces of bacon weekly instead of 4, 2 ounces of cheese instead of 3, 1 ounce weekly of cooking fat, but our 2 ounces of butter and 4 ounces of margarine remain. The meat ration is reduced, as 2d worth of our 12d (about 28c) per week has to include corned beef. Poultry is unknown to most people (in two years I have eaten poultry seven times, twice being on a Christmas Day), fish means very long queues waiting everywhere. We get 20 points every four weeks instead of 24 and some of the tinned things take the whole 20 and more. Rice has disappeared from the shops and in any case means 8 out of our 20 points, and the dried fruit is very scarce. Dried eggs and dried milk we get once a month on our cards (1 tin each). However, we have felt all the time that the food control was splendid as it was so fair and what we are rationed for we get. Though we are very tired of standing in queues we realize that with staff shortages etc., it can't be helped.

I HOPE I have given some idea of what it is like here now. I have not touched on politics, elections, nor any of the big things like postwar problems. You can read of them in the newspapers. This is only everyday stuff from one of the millions who feel the deepest relief and gratitude that the awful carnage and destruction in Europe has ceased and a personal gratitude that with high explosives and fire bombs all around, and flying bombs and rockets crashing close by, she has been spared, for I've been in London through it all except for short holidays. Dear shabby, battered, dauntless, unconquerable London!

Ju-Ju In New Guinea?

From the Australian Weekly News Review

THERE is a little bunch of Australian commandos in New Guinea with definite ideas about native jujuism. It began in the Torricelli Range when their radio operator brought home to camp one night a curious bone made from a human shin, shaped like a dagger, with a knobby handle on top. Perhaps there is nothing in it, but the boys, a level-headed lot, swear it must have been a juju.

Someone threw it on a bunk, and it lay there for the rest of the day. When the occupant went to bed that night, the bone was near his head. He had the most appalling nightmares, and woke up half a dozen times terrified. It seemed that someone was strangling him. He could feel the fingers on his throat.

NEXT NIGHT, without having a thought of the bone, or its possible significance, he went off to sleep again. This time he was seized with thoughts of suicide. On the third night the performance was repeated, with the result that one of the commandos took the loaded magazine from his rifle—just in case.

The bone was handed to another commando, who experienced the same sensations. It was no joke. But someone suggested pointing the bone at the corporal to see what happened. Next day the corporal was pulled out of the lines with dengue.

After that they threw away the bone and all untoward manifestations ceased. Not long afterwards the men came on a cache of similar things. Although they were souvenir-hunters to a man, not one of them would touch another shaped bone.

THE INTERNATIONAL SCENE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
 Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

The world is fortunate in that the Allied forces which are occupying Japan are seasoned veterans who, from Supreme Commander Gen. MacArthur down to the ranks, have learned much of Japanese mentality by hard experience.

Allied success in reforming the Japs and making good global citizens of them depends heavily on the initial contact between these still medieval people and the first foreign troops ever to set foot on the Mikado's domains as conquerors. It's a great adventure into the unknown, for while Japanese officers were "polite as pie" to the airborne spearhead of occupation yesterday, yet nobody—not even the harassed Tokyo government—knows how the people of Nippon as a whole will respond to the policing of their homeland.

Thus far it appears the Japanese military and the government realize full well their country is beaten into impotence. But while this is an essential step in the reformation of Japan, the real change will come through education and not through manhandling. That's why the relationship established in the early days of the occupation is so vital. It's vastly encouraging to see that while Gen. MacArthur is proceeding firmly, he also is moving with extreme care. Of course this procedure is being followed in part as a safeguard against possible hostile demonstrations by disgruntled militarists or fanatics, but the indications are that the commander is equally concerned with the first impressions created in Japan by his forces.

As regards the danger of

sporadic attacks on Allied occupation men by misguided Japanese elements, Gen. MacArthur is in position to deal with anything and everything through the tremendous Allied striking power at his disposal. The naval fleet which is lying off Tokyo is the greatest ever assembled, and with a wave of the hand he could unleash far more air strength against Japan than has yet been seen in action anywhere.

Still, while all these precautions have been taken, and the Japanese government is showing every evidence of anxiety to co-operate wholly, the danger of trouble does exist. This in itself is a good answer to critics who are demanding why the Allies haven't already started cracking down on the Japanese militarists, some of whom appear to be in the government.

Choir Boys Sing At Morning Wedding

This morning at 10.30 in St. John's Church, Canon Michael Coleman, assisted by Rev. George Biddle, officiated at the marriage of Lucy Muriel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Huzzey, 1930 Lulle Street, and Flt. Lt. C. R. Berry, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Berry, also of this city.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white taffeta with sweetheart neckline and peplum of embroidered cutwork. A floor-length veil of French illusion fell from a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried an all-white bouquet of gardenias, roses and carnations and her only ornament was a gold pendant set with garnets, her birthstone, the gift of the groom.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were the choir boys of the church singing "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," chosen by her as the processional hymn.

Miss Peggy Dykes, the only attendant, was in a blue sheer gown, with small bolero jacket of the same material. She carried a round bouquet of pink roses and carnations and there were tiny flower clusters in her hair.

Sgt. C. R. Paulson of Victoria was groomsmen, while Ian Jack and Rodney Thompson were the ushers.

A reception was held at The Priory, Pemberton Road, where the guests were received by Mrs. T. F. Huzzey and Mrs. A. R. Berry. The toast to the bride was given by Alderman F. G. Mulliner, an old family friend.

For a honeymoon trip to Jasper the bride wore a silk crepe frock of navy blue with small white polka dot, topped with a soft wool bolero. Her hat was a navy sailor trimmed with rose, her accessories navy and she carried a topcoat of royal blue with lynx collar. A round corsage bouquet of rose carnations, completed the ensemble.

On their return to the coast, Flt. Lt. and Mrs. Berry will live in Vancouver.

Enjoying a short holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. T. Dickson, 2619 Cavendish Avenue, Mrs. Shirley J. Stevens will return next week to Washington, D.C., where she has worked for the past 15 months with the British Colonies Supplies Commission. Mrs. Stevens, who left for Victoria shortly after V-J Day, described the celebrations in the United States capital as tremendous. Dining in a spot overlooking the Potomac River when the news was announced, she said the noise of boat whistles was deafening. Later, on going to the White House grounds, it was almost impossible to move, she said.

PARENTAL SACRIFICES GREAT

The question of how much parents should sacrifice for their children is one which not even Solomon himself could have answered, for it depends upon circumstances, but in any case it is a plenty.

Every mother who has laid her youth and good looks and desire for pleasure on the altar of her motherhood and who has been just as much tied to the wheels of Junior's perambulator as any Roman captive ever was to the chariot wheels of his conqueror; who has not known for years and years what it is to have a night's untroubled sleep because of having to give the baby his bottle or answer the call for M-a-m-a; who has gone shabby that the kids might have the same sort of sweaters and hair ribbons that the other children have; who has cooked and scrubbed and darned and patched, has made enough sacrifices to rank her among the martyrs except that such self-abnegation is so common among mothers that we take it for granted.

FATHERS SLAVE AT JOBS

Nor does any soldier who gives his life for his country do a braver or a finer thing, or make a greater sacrifice than the father who slaves at his job to feed and clothe and educate his children and give them luxuries and advantages that he never had, and who does it so uncomplainingly that the youngsters never realize that he is giving up all of his hopes and dreams and desires for them. They think it is only a peculiarity of Pop's.

that makes him wear his old clothes instead of buying new ones, and that keeps him nailed to his desk hot summers instead of going fishing.

The great inevitable sacrifices of parenthood show human nature at its best, but there is a deadline at which mothers and fathers enslaving themselves to their children becomes a crime instead of a virtue. This is the case when a mother works herself to death while her husky daughters never do a hand's turn of labor around the house for fear of spoiling the red lacquer on their nails, and play golf for exercise.

"Mother thinks she is being good to her girls when she sits up at night making them pretty clothes and washing out their stockings, and pressing their skirts, and she doesn't realize that if she were their worst enemy she couldn't do them a greater injury than by spoiling them and unfitting them for being poor men's wives.

Parents also account it unto themselves for righteousness when they spend every cent they can rake and scrape on sending their children to college whether they are college material or not. It is a common thing to hear fathers and mothers say: "We are investing all we make in our children's education," the theory being that an education will necessarily make a boy or girl a big money-earner, and that the children will delight in repaying their debt to their parents by lapping them in luxury in their old age.

Sometimes this happens. Often it doesn't. The children do not turn out to be financial wizards. They marry, and their husbands and wives resent the presence of their dependent in-laws in the house. And often the children themselves, in the interest of peace and harmony, wish that Pop and Mom had put them to work instead of sending them to college, and had saved up enough money on which to be independent in their old age.

The moral of all of which is that parental sacrifice is one of the virtues that can easily become a vice, and that it should be practiced in moderation.

No Protest Foreseen By Apple Producers At 1945 Price Order

Agriculture Minister K. C. MacDonald today expected few cries of discrimination from Okanagan apple producers at the announcement Tuesday that the Price Board in Ottawa had granted increase of retail price ceilings for apples produced in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes but had maintained 1944 ceilings for the B.C. crop.

While the provincial department of agriculture had no dealings with the Prices Board in setting the ceilings—the work being handled by the producers' selling agent, the B.C. Tree Fruits & other farmers' organizations—Dr. MacDonald believed B.C. fruit growers were well satisfied with the 1944 prices, set during the bumper crop year.

Despite the increase of the retail price the return to eastern Canadian apple producers is not expected to be so great as last year since the pick is reported to be almost a complete failure.

B.C. producers will gain only on one point over last year. It is the elimination of the 15-cent discount on McIntosh varieties shipped to eastern Canada which prevailed last year.

B.C. TO SUPPLY 70%

B.C. is the only apple-producing province expecting a full crop this year, Dr. MacDonald said. It is expected B.C. will supply 70 per cent of the total Canadian production.

The Prices Board in making the announcement indicated exports will have to be curbed to supply the domestic market and it is considered likely a considerable quantity of B.C. apples will this year be sent to eastern Canada to fill the gap caused by the poor crops there.

Largest foreign consumer of B.C. apples last year was United States which this year is also anticipating a poor pick. Exports there will probably be curbed considerably.

MAJ. G. BOYINGTON

ABOARD U.S.S. ANCON, Tokyo Bay (AP)—Word was flashed to this communications ship that Maj. Gregory Boyington, Marine flying hero of the Solomon campaign, "is alive in Tokyo."

First word was transmitted to the 3rd Fleet by the cruiser San Juan. There were no details. Boyington, now 32, of Okanagan, Wash., was credited with downing a total of 26 Japanese planes as he defiantly rode the Solomon skies at the head of his Black Sheep squadron in 1943 and 1944.

He was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Navy Cross and was the United States' ace of aces when he disappeared over Rabaul Jan. 1, 1944.

Forceful Figures Emerge In New British Commons

NORNGROVE COX
Reuter's Parliamentary Correspondent

LONDON (Reuter)—New members of the House of Commons have already convinced experienced observers that a wealth of fresh talent has been carried into Britain's ancient Parliament. Some 45 out of over 300 new members now have spoken and among parliamentary journalists there is the fairly unanimous opinion that they include outstanding performances.

Labor member Raymond Blackburn, who captured a Conservative stronghold, so impressed the House with his passionate demand that Britain should take the lead in a new world of freedom that when he sat down Prime Minister Clement Attlee grasped him by both hands in the warmth of his congratulations and the "old man" as former Prime Minister Churchill is affectionately called, sent the apostle of action a written message of congratulations.

Addressing the critical audience in the Mother of Parliaments for the first time is always an ordeal. One new Labor member, Maj. Hugh Fraser likened his feelings when he rose to those he had experienced when about to make a parachute jump at night behind the German lines in occupied Europe.

Perhaps the undoubted impression these new members have created is partly due to the fact that so many have come straight from the field of action. Nor have they been content to echo their leaders or gloss over unpleasant facts.

A vigorous defence of British policy in Greece by the new Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin, was followed by equally vigorous criticism from one of the new members, Maj. Lyall Walkes, who reminded the House that he had served in that country. He called on his leader to put an end to what he called "excesses by pro-Fascists and royalists," who, he said, dominated the state services of Greece today.

'Rochester' Appears In Farce At York

Following the entertainment lead he set with such uproarious comedies as "Up In Mabel's Room" and "Abroad With Two Yanks," producer Edward Small is presenting his latest attraction, "Brewster's Millions," strictly for laughs. The farce, which co-stars
Dennis O'Keefe, Helen Walker,
June Havoc and Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, will be shown at the York Theatre Thursday through United Artists release.
Adapted from the famous novel by George Barr McCutcheon and the record-breaking stage play by Winchell Smith and Byron Ongley, "Brewster's Millions" exploits the dilemma of a young man forced to spend $1,000,000 in 60 days so that he will be eligible to inherit $7,000, 000 more from the estate of an eccentric uncle.

ATLAS THEATRE

Thomas E. Jackson, promi-nently cast as a police inspector in International Pictures' "The Woman in the Window," now at the Atlas Theatre, starring Edward G. Robinson and Joan Bennett, has played the role of a cop in more than 90 pictures. He went to Hollywood in 1928 after playing the cop in "Broadway" for 95 weeks in New York. He was Robinson's nemesis in "Little Caesar."

SEPARATED A LONG TIME—First reunion in 50 years is celebrated by the Allen brothers in Saint John, N.B. From the left: George, 80, of Dawson, Yukon; Frank, 68, Saint John; Thurston, 75, Torbrook, N.S.; Harris, 70, Saint John, and James, 73, Pickardville, Alta.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The things Katharine Hepburn does for her career!

During the run of "The Warrior's Husband" she was always black and blue from falls after being thrown by Colin Keith-Johnston over his shoulder.

She had a leopard as a playmate in "Bringing Up Baby."

She spent seven consecutive evenings in a cold pool for swimming scenes for "The Philadelphia Story."

In "Woman of the Year" she had to learn to speak much of the dialogue in six different languages.

And in M-G-M's "Without Love," in which she is co-starred with Spencer Tracy at the Capitol Theatre, she had to wear a very heavy oxygen helmet, much like a diver's garb, for two weeks while scenes were filmed showing her helping Spencer Tracy develop a secret flyer's mask.

DOMINION THEATRE

After winning a role in Para-mount's "Bring On the Girls," technicolor musical currently at the Dominion Theatre, Johnny Coy had to cut his dance practicing down to only six hours a day.
He has had an excellent part in this musical which stars Eddie Bracken, Veronica Lake, Sonny
Tufts and Marjorie Reynolds.

CADET THEATRE

Long the acknowledged dean of American composers, Jerome Kern was a natural choice to write the music for Deanna Durbin's first technicolor musical, Universal's "Can't Help Singing," which is now at the Cadet Theatre. There could be no better combination of musical talents than Kern's songs and Deanna's golden voice.

Health Officer Returns

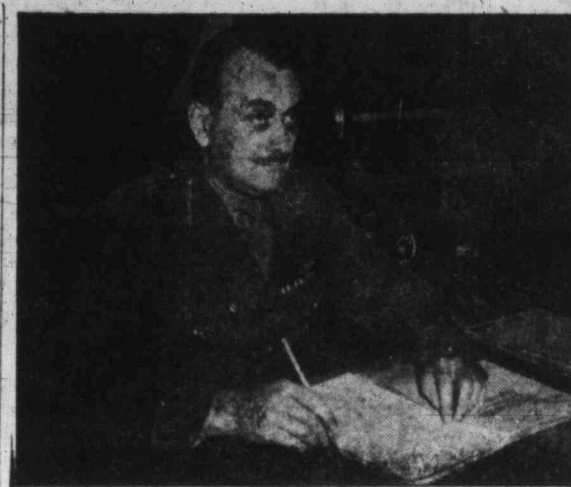

Lt. Col. J. L. M. Anderson, M.B.E., who will resume his duties as school health inspector with the opening of the fall term Sept. 4, has just returned from overseas after serving four years in Italy and Holland. Dr. Anderson is slated to be head of the combined civic health services, which also will take in the school health services. Both the city council and school board have approved the plan to combine their health services, and Dr.
Anderson has been instructed to immediately start organization work so that the unified service can start at the first of the year.
He expects to get his discharge this week. Early this year he was appointed to the rank of Lt.
Col. and also to the post of chief hygiene officer with the 1st Canadian Corps in Italy and then in Holland. He was awarded the M.B.E. for distinguished service in the New Year's list of honors.
Dr. Anderson enlisted with the R.C.A.M.C. in 1940. His wife and three sons reside at 1855 Watson Street.

OAK BAY PLAZA THEATRES

Much is talked about the pains taken by film-makers to be sure that the minutest details of a picture shall be accurate and authentic. But it is doubtful if anything can surpass the passion for realism in this respect evinced by Vincent Korda, who was responsible for the natural color sets for "Four Feathers."
Alexander Korda's technicolor film of the Sudan, which is now being shown at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

In this film there is a shot which occupies only a few minutes on the screen. It is the scene where the young, sensitive Harry Faversham walks around the hall of his ancestral home and by the light of a candle gazes up at the portraits of his soldier ancestors. There they all are, cold, hard-looking men with square chins. They are all in uniform—wearing the wigs of Raffles, the breast-plates of the Stuarts, the pig-tails of Waterloo and Trafalgar. Here is an Admiral Faversham who fought under Drake, there a General
Faversham who won renown at Inkermann.

ALTHOUGH they passed up the opportunity to travel to Alberta for the western Canada playoffs, Tommy Tucker's gained a lot of satisfaction in winning the British Columbia senior men's championship at Vancouver last week-end. Forced to make the trip minus the services of several of their star players the local club played heads up ball to knock over a much-surprised Sears outfit two straight. The mainland winners, I am told, had their bags all packed ready to leave for the prairies, they were so confident of winning. No wonder they took the successive defeats with poor grace. It must have been an awful blow to their ego. It is unfortunate that Tucker could not represent this province in the western series. The trip was impossible as a majority of the players could not get away from their jobs. Anyway the boys at least have the satisfaction of bringing a provincial championship to the city. It must not be forgotten that Tucker did not play in an organized league all season, keeping their team in condition through a series of exhibition games.

CORRESPONDENCE today includes a letter from H. E. Burnett, one of the city's enthusiastic cricket supporters. He pens some interesting comment on the season reaching its close. Burnett writes as follows: "The call of war took many of the younger, and some of the older cricket players from among us, but the call of the old brigade to fill in responded to with alacrity by men who, or so they thought, retired for keeps many years ago."

THEIR PRESENCE was, indeed, a credit to the game no less than to themselves as they trudged between wickets for a single run, which same stroke in their heyday would have been a boundary and worth four. None the less pleasing was to see the same veterans partnered at the wicket by a boy 15 years old, yes, down to 13 and even 12 years of age. Such was the case at Beacon Hill when those two youngsters Booth and Sherratt performed. The first named is an excellent left hander who can take wickets in the best company around here while Sherratt proved himself a grand wicket keeper. It was in this same game that the veteran Les Gibbons gave a magnificent and sparkling display of hitting when he compiled 106 runs in slightly under an hour. It was an exhibition that thrilled and delighted the spectators. A few days previously, Roberts, a member of the Royal Navy, had treated the onlookers to a century played in faultless style, one of the several big scores made by this player during his visit to this city. This player through his smart play soon became the idol of the fans.

ONE MATCH in particular was keenly watched when the Albions drew upon the services of Roberts for a match with the Five C's. This brought the brilliant batsman against Victoria's no less brilliant bowler, Jack Payne. The duel was a keen one with the doughty seaman on top at the end of the innings with a not out score of close to 50 to his credit. Games such as these will be missed during the next months, but there will always be pleasant memories. The past season has brought young and old together and will leave with the younger generation something which will stand them in good stead in later years both on and off the field. Yes, that is cricket.

Wrestling Card Set

Jack Forsgren, popular Vancouver heavyweight, will make his first appearance on a wrestling card since the return of the sport this summer, Saturday night at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Forsgren has been matched with Dazzler Clarke, rugged New York grappler.

This bout should produce enough action and thrills to suit the most rabid fan. Both boys are rugged and can hand out and take punishment. In his two bouts here with Chief Thunderbird Clarke proved a tough customer.

LACROSSE MEETING

A meeting of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association will be held tomorrow at the British Public Schools Club, Langley Street, commencing at 8.30. All team delegates are asked to be present.

YOUNG BEATEN

In a fastball game played at Yubou the home girls went down to defeat 19 to 18 at the hands of Chemainus Co-Eds.

Sports Meeting Britannia Branch No. 7, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L.

Montreal Youth Advances In U.S. Tennis Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Youth had its annual fling in the opening round of the United States tennis championships yesterday and in the opinion of some qualified experts, two or three of the youngsters may stick around after today to contend with such established stars as Sgt. Frankie Parker, Bill Talbert and Pancho Segura.

The top trio of youngsters includes air cadet Bob Falkenberg of Hollywood, Calif., sixth in the 1944 national rankings and eighth seeded player of the 1945 championships; Herbert Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., successor to Falkenberg as national junior champion, and Herbert Buddy Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., winner of the boys' championship for the last two years.

All three came through their opening matches in fine style and face comparatively easy opposition today. Other young players who survived the first day's matches include Brendin Macken of Montreal.

Rangy, blond Macken turned in a hard-volleying 6-2, 7-5 triumph over veteran Lt.-Cmdr. John Van Ryn of Washington, D.C., erstwhile Davis Cup star, in their first round encounter. The only other Canadian entered, Henri Rochon, slender, curly-headed youngster also of Montreal, bowed to another American veteran, Sidney B. Wood of New York, 6-3, 8-6.

Teemed with Bernard Barten of San Angelo, Tex., Macken was eliminated from the men's doubles by Lieut. Hal Surface of Kansas City and Lieut. Bob Peacock, Laguna Beach, Calif., 7-5, 6-4.

Houllihan paid $10.70, $3.50 and $2.80. Loretta Rice, a head in front of Phantom Sixty, paid 2.80 and $2.90, and the show-off was $2.70. Total mutual handle for the day was $155,332.

In lifting the title Bruce poked out 31 hits in 76 trips to the plate, and led the league in doubles with nine.

Seattle, Portland Continue Winning Ways In Ball Race

Portland power and Seattle pitching left the two top Coast League teams still three games apart today after both won opening games of their final California sojourn last night.

The circuit-pacing Beavers smashed out a 13 to 1 victory over a demoralized San Diego club while the Rainiers ousted to a 5 to 1 decision over the Sacramento Solons behind Hal Turpin's seven-hit hurling.

The Solons' defeat dropped them into a third-place tie with the idle San Francisco Seals, who open against the Los Angeles Angels today.

Oakland's A's, straining for a first division spot, found the tall, Hollywood Stars easy picking, winning 8 to 2. The triumph moved the Oaks to within five and a half games of the Seals-Solons combination.

Turpin's 5 to 1 victory over the Solons was his 15th of the season. The Rainiers, leading by one in the first of the ninth when they scored three times to break up a tight pitching duel between Turpin and Joe Wood Jr. First baseman George McDonald tripled in two runs and then raced home as second baseman Gene Handley threw the ball into the backstop on a play at the plate. The two teams will play a nine-game series this week, with a twin bill scheduled tonight.

Major Baseball Cards-Browns Cool Off

St. Louis dreams of another Sportsman's Park world series appeared faded today with the winning streaks of the Cardinals and the Browns broken while Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers resumed their winning ways.

Failure of Billy Southworth's Red Birds to beat the second division club is haunting the defending world champions in their desperate strait-running drive to overtake the front-running Bruins from Chicago.

While Charley Grimm's powerhouse has been able to flatten Cincinnati 17 out of 18 and drub the Phillies 15 out of 15, St. Louis has been held to an even break in 16 starts against the Reds and has just eked out the last-place Phils 10 times in 18 contests. Against the Reds, Boston Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates, Chicago has played .746 ball while the Cards have managed only a .549 pace.

After six straight wins the champs were halted by Cincinnati last night, 3 to 2, by the slender margin of Eddie Miller's eighth-inning home run off reliever Red Barrett, trying unsuccessfully to become the National's first 20-game winner.

THREE-RUN HOMER

Grimm celebrated his 46th birthday in happy fashion by trimming Pittsburgh, 6 to 3, with the help of Peanuts Lowrey's three-run homer off Fritz Ostermuller.

Chicago's lead was stretched to 3½ games.

Brooklyn took a firmer grasp on third place by a 7 to 1 romp over the Phillies with Les Webber going to the relief of Art Herring who gave way to a shoulder ailment after two innings.

As New York Giants and Boston were not scheduled, the Dodgers now hold third spot by two full games.

Hal Newhouse cooled off the Brownies in the American League feature, 10 to 1, allowing only four hits on his way to his 21st victory.

Bobby Feller's second start for Cleveland lacked some of the dash of his first appearance but the fireball merchant had little trouble handcutting Chicago, 8 to 2. The ex-seller walked seven and struck out six White Sox, apparently easing off after

Jokers Defeat Owls In Rugged Boxla Tilt

In a wild box lacrosse battle Jokers defeated Owl Drug 14 to 8 Tuesday night. It marked the second straight win for the Jokers in the best-of-seven play-off for the city championship. Clubs tangle in the third game Friday night at 8.30.

Game was enlivened by several fights with the climax coming at the finish when Baldy Taylor of the Jokers mixed it up with Referee Milan Aleksick. The boys were not content with scuffling on the floor but carried their battle among the spectators. Immediately after play finished there was a wild milling of players, officials and fans on the floor.

Although the Jokers had the game well in hand they seemed to take exception at the slightest provocation, and being considerably the heavier team they seemed anxious to throw their weight around.

Play was fast and checking close in the opening canto. The score at the first breather was 3 to 2 for Jokers. Starting the second period Jokers ran in four goals before Owls were able to retaliate, through the efforts of Shubrook and McCaghey. Owls scored two. At half time Jokers led 7 to 4.

FEELINGS RUN HIGH

Penalties ran rampant in the third session Owls picking up four and Jokers two. It was obvious at this point that feeling was creeping into the game. The boys were going in on individual efforts instead of passing the ball. Jokers outscored Owls 3 to 2.

The game had barely commenced the final period when war broke out between Vic Sage and Daryl Popham. Andy Brown of Jokers also joined in the scuffle. For his efforts he was given a 5-minute rest while the two principals picked up 10 each. Jokers took time out to score four goals and Owls two. The final official fight was between King and Hunter, who went about two five-minute rounds. Referee Aleksick and Ross finally parted them and the game resumed. The final score of which no one was interested was 14 to 8.

Heatherington of the Jokers played his usual cool game while Shubrook starred for the Owls, scoring three goals and two assists.

In the opener Oakland defeated Senators 13 to 11. Clarkson and the McGhee boys led the winners while Oakley and Davidson were high for the Senators.

Teams and scores follow:
Jokers—Hetherington, King, Ovcharik 2, Druce 2, Harding, Brown 2, Sage, Kamie, Douglas 2, Walker, Uttke 1, Taylor 3, Straith 1.

Owl Drug—Altken, Bamford, Long, Winter 1, Jenkins, Mason, Ritchie 1, Scott, Shubrook 3, Popham, McCaghey 1, and Hunter 2.

Max Schmeling Will Not Publish Books

BUNDE, Germany (AP)—Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight champion, who said he wanted to publish books to "re-educate the youth of Germany," has been denied a licence to publish by the British Control Commission. It was disclosed Tuesday.

The German pugilist—the only man to knock out Joe Louis—is living with his actress wife, Anny Ondra, at Hamburg.

A high-ranking British officer on the control commission said: "Schmeling was nothing more than a political champion—he was used as a symbol of Nazism throughout the war for the German youth. We don't want such a man publishing books."

Brentwood Aces Defeat P.S.M. To Deadlock Series

Battle between Pacific Sheet Metal and Brentwood Aces for the city senior B men's fastball championship was at a deadlock today. Tuesday night the Aces, behind the three-hit twirling of Alf Aspinall blanked the metal workers 7 to 0 to tie up the best-of-five series at two games each.

Brentwood sewed up the game in the second inning, when extra base blows by Aspinall and Benn combined with three errors, gave them six runs off pitcher Stan Tenning. Eighth inning saw the Brentwood boys push across their seventh and final run.

Brentwood collected a total of 11 hits off Tenning.

In a Colonist Cup knockout game, K.V.'s defeated Spruce Products 10 to 9.

Short score for the Brentwood-P.S.M. game follows:
R. H. E.

Liquor May Prove Lively Topic In Provincial Election

Liquor, always a fiery topic in B.C. politics, will play a part in the forthcoming provincial general election campaign whether or not Premier John Hart decides to include a plebiscite on the proposed opening up of the Government Liquor Act at the time the Coalition government goes to the polls.

Following the opening up of the liquor question with an address in Victoria by Bishop H. E. Sexton, liquor has become a question of much public discussion in British Columbia.

Beside other members of the Anglican clergy, more liberal liquor laws are favored by the Roman Catholic clergy.

Opposed to opening the Government Liquor Act to permit consumption of beers and wines in restaurants with meals are the United, Presbyterian and Baptist churches, along with various temperance organizations.

Meanwhile members of the B.C. cabinet are keeping mum on the question of a plebiscite but as lobbying and public opinion crystallizes the most plausible solution for the government may be a plebiscite.

A strong vote for more liberal liquor laws would preclude new liquor legislation at the next session of the B.C. Legislature.

Anticipate Rush To Pay Income Tax

Payment of the Dominion Income Tax on the 1944 income, deferred from April 30 until Aug. 31, has been active this week, income tax officials said today, with a rush expected in the last two days.

On reporting the returns in the spring, payments deducted from the source or paid in quarterly instalments were taken into consideration. In some cases this resulted in the discovery that an overpayment had been made for which the taxpayer was entitled to a refund and in others that a further payment had to be made with the return.

If the taxpayer did not want to pay the balance owing then he was allowed to have it deferred until Aug. 31 without interest, but after that date interest will be payable. The general impression was that the deferment was granted on account of the war bond drive on at that time.

Until this week, payment had been pretty well spread out, tax officials said.

San Juan municipality's annual tax sale will be held at the Municipal Hall, Royal Oak, next Tuesday, F. Stanley Green, collector of taxes, has announced. Service men submitting proof of service before date of the sale may be exempted.

Syl Apps, Famous Hockey Star, Here For Sports Meet

Rated one of the great centre ice players of all time, Lieut. Sylvanus Apps, member of the Toronto Maple Leafs before enlisting in the Canadian Army, is a visitor in Victoria. Lieut. Apps will participate in the Pacific Command track and field championships at Macdonald Park tomorrow and Friday as a member of the Vernon School of Infantry squad.

Apps will compete in the pole vault, the same event he took part in at the Olympic Games at Berlin in 1936, as a member of the Canadian team. Immediately on arrival in Victoria, Apps contacted Archie McKinnon, physical director of the Y.M.C.A., whom he met at the Olympiad. McKinnon making the trip as coach of the Canadian track squad.

Apps played seven seasons with the Maple Leafs, helping them with the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's professional championship, the season of 1940-41. He was twice selected a member of the first all-star team and four seasons was chosen on the alternate club.

Questioned about his return to major hockey Apps said his plans were very indefinite as he had no idea when he would receive his discharge. "When I do get back into civilian life I would like to take another whirl at hockey just to see how I would make out," he said. During his two years in the services Apps has played little hockey, participating in only three games last season.

Leaving Victoria Aug. 23, the 79-foot Cooperator IV, with her crew of six, visited camps on the west coast of the Island to pick up unloaded hauls from the association's trollers. Her calls were to Winter Harbor, Klaskis, Kyuquot, Refuge Cove, Tofino, Ucluelet and Bamfield.

She docked this morning at the wharf of R. Spouse and Son Ltd. Vancouver-built, the packer made her first trip in March of this year. Skipper Ertesvag said his vessel could have taken another 15,000 pounds of salmon before her holds would have been packed.

Charge Dismissed

Charge of breaking and entering with intent to seize forcibly another person was dismissed against Albert J. Jackson, by Magistrate H. C. Hall in City Police Court today.

Another charge of common assault against Jackson was withdrawn upon request of Joseph McKenna, counsel for the complainant.

A charge was laid by Mary Ellen Woodley that on May 31, Jackson broke and entered the house at 1871 Fern Street with intent to seize forcibly J. Jackson. The latter is Jackson's young son.

Magistrate Hall in his judgment stated that a situation could arise wherein an act would be a crime in B.C. and yet not in Alberta. The provincial statute could not alter the Dominion law he said. Mr. McKenna in his argument had used the Province's Equal Guardianship of Infants Act.

Awarded D.F.C.

P.O. HARVEY MINNIS, D.F.C.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Minnis, 1825 Hollywood Crescent, have been advised by Hon. Colin Gibson, Minister of National Defence for Air, that their son, P.O. Harvey Minnis, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

P.O. Minnis was reported missing after air operations April 27, 1943. He was in command of a four-engined ship, after having spent some time on twin-engined Wellingtons.

P.O. Minnis was born in Victoria and attended Margaret Jenkins and Victoria High Schools. He was graduated with his wings in 1942. Hon. Mr. Gibson in his letter said that P.O. Minnis had attacked many of the enemy's most heavily defended targets, including Hamburg, Duisburg, Berlin and Essen.

"He always completed his missions with courage and determination," the citation said. "This officer has set an example of the highest order by the skill and courage which have been a source of inspiration to all."

Mr. Gibson regretted the announcement of the award was so long delayed but said: "There are some, however, who see the answer to the question as we remember the circumstances in which one found oneself during the battle, when for example there were times when recollection of the most important incidents were deferred by the exigencies of the conflict."

Huge Salmon Haul Victoria's Highest

Believed to be the heaviest landing of salmon in Victoria's history, 168,000 pounds of salmon were unloaded today from the Kyuquot Trollers' Co-operative Association's packer, Co-operator IV, skippered by Albert Ertesvag.

Fishermen in the association will net an estimated $27,000 from the haul.

New Park Mooted For Victoria West

Steps are being taken to establish a new city park in Victoria West, Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman of the parks committee, announced following a meeting of the committee Tuesday.

The committee will recommend that property on the east side of Craigflower Road extending to Selkirk Water be reserved by the city council for park purposes.

Representatives of the leagues using Athletic and Macdonald Parks for Canadian and English rugby and soccer met the committee and a tentative schedule for fall games was drawn up. This schedule is subject to approval by the sports bodies.

Complete demolition of the Gorge bathhouse which was badly damaged by two recent fires will be recommended by the committee, Ald. McTavish said.

Because of complaints of poor lighting on Burdett Avenue, between Vancouver and Quadra Streets, the committee will ask the opinion of property owners in the district on the removal of every other tree.

Legal Assistance For War Veterans

MONTREAL (CP)—The committee on war work of the Canadian Bar Association today reviewed the system of legal aid set up for Canadian servicemen in 1942, and urged that the Department of Veterans Affairs install legal aid officers at principal rehabilitation centres so the system could be continued to help discharged veterans.

A report to the council of the association meeting here today until Thursday, in annual session, said the subject was under discussion with the Department of Veterans Affairs, and added that it had been agreed that in legal matters which were purely civilian in nature, customary fees should be paid. The services of Bar Association committees, however, would continue to be furnished to discharged personnel and their dependents, but would be limited to "matters arising during or by reason of the period of active service of the person concerned."

Chief Justice Wendell B. Forde of the Supreme Court of B.C., told the council 12 recommendations made by the Canadian Bar Association were accepted by the United Nations at San Francisco as the basis for creating a new Court of International Justice which will sit at The Hague, Holland, as the judicial instrument of the newly-formed world peace organization.

Northern Cottonwood Now Used For Plywoods

Considerable development of cottonwood logging in the Skeena and Quesnel district is foreseen today.

Last week the first large shipment of cottonwood logs was sent from Prince Rupert by Davis raft to Vancouver for the Western Plywood Co. This firm, which is branching out considerably, apparently plans to use cottonwood extensively in plywoods, forestry department officers here said today.

It is believed to be the only plywood company which plans to use cottonwood extensively in plywoods. Fir, along with several other woods, are used by other companies making plywoods.

Forestry officers did not wish to estimate the adaptability of cottonwood in plywood manufacture.

Maitland to Inspect Land Offered for Sale

Protests of the proposed sale by the B.C. government of a lot of land which includes a mile of frontage on the Cowichan River have precipitated an investigation which will be made this week by Attorney-General R. L. Maitland.

The land, described as Lot 11, Lake Cowichan district, which is near the river crossing of the old Rips Road, reverted recently to the province which advertised it was for sale.

Protests have been sent to the attorney-general by chambers of commerce, fish and game associations and from private individuals.

Port Alberni and District Board of Trade declined to endorse Victoria's request for the establishment of a division office of the Income Tax department here. The proposal "received little sympathy from the members present," a letter received at the City Hall states.

Saanich Discusses Resolutions For Coming Convention

Saanich council Tuesday night gave consideration to resolutions which had been submitted by other municipalities to go before the forthcoming convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities. The council agreed to leave voting on the resolutions to the discretion of delegates from the municipality.

Saanich has already submitted to the union a resolution seeking removal of the sales tax on goods bought by municipalities.

It has also submitted resolutions asking early implementation as soon as the report on the expected Cameron commission on education is received, and that municipalities giving assistance in obtaining a Wartime Prices and Trade Board conviction be given 50 per cent of the fines levied.

A petition for improved bus services on the West Saanich Road and in the Seven Oaks district from residents in the area was received and referred to the transportation committee.

Referred to the water committee was a petition from residents on the East Saanich Road north of the Log Cabin asking for extension of the present water system.

The council approved an application from H. Gableman, Happy Valley, asking permission to raise mink in the lake district on the provision Mr. Gableman complied with the requests of the building and sanitary inspectors.

A request for introduction of a system of certification of electrical workers, asked by the Victoria Electrical Contractors' Association and the Victoria Local of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, was referred to the light and power committee.

The council decided to postpone action to prevent C. W. Sturken and S. H. Notely from operating a salvage business in the B.C. Electric Railway Co.'s Cloverdale Avenue barns until expiration of the lease on Oct. 1.

A.R.P. Organization Praised By Kiwanis

Kiwanis Club of Victoria Tuesday paid tribute to the near six years of A.R.P. work here during the war.

Nine members of the Greater Victoria A.R.P. organization were present at the luncheon. They were Inspector A. H. Bishop, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, G. A. A. Hebbden, Victoria; O. A. Butters, Collin Rutherford, Oak Bay; Councillor A. Ellis, H. Church, Esquimalt, and Capt. E. V. W. Leven, Kenneth Genn, Saanich.

Kiwanian Will Straith, K.C., M.L.A., traced the work of the A.R.P. organization here and of the continued effort needed to keep people interested. He praised the work of doctors and first aid experts and the many housewives who found time to study the work.

Mr. Hebbden said the rank and file of the A.R.P. deserved high praise. A debt was owed the federal, provincial and civic governments for equipment, organization and training they provided.

Kiwanian vice-president Ralph Matthews advised club members of a forthcoming fishing derby from 2 to 7 a week Wednesday afternoon. Members will meet at Francis' Boat House, Malahat, near Sandy Beach.

Miss Peggy Walton sang two songs and was accompanied by Miss Rita Nevard.

Ministers Hear Talk On Chaplain Service

A special meeting of the Ministerial Association was held Monday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. to hear H. Maj. Gordon R. Addie, senior chaplain with the Fourth Division overseas. Maj. Addie told how the chaplain service operated among the men and the plan that was devised to keep the men well occupied during the difficult days between the cease fire order and the day that repatriation began.

Everything possible has been done to keep in touch with the men, he said. Military officials have co-operated with the chaplain service and ministers at home have done all that could be expected of them for the men while overseas.

Importance of making organized effort to fit the men into work in the church on return home was among many helpful suggestions made in the course of the discussion.

The vice-chairman, Rev. W. L. McKay, thanked the speaker.

Pattullo To Run As Independent

T. D. Pattullo, K.C., former Liberal premier of British Columbia, who will start his 30th year next month as representative of the Prince Rupert constituency in the B.C. Legislature, will seek re-election as an independent at the forthcoming provincial general election, he said today on his return from his constituency.

The 72-year-old veteran of B.C.

political life who has served as minister of lands and who resigned the premiership in 1941 as the coalition regime of Premier John Hart and Attorney-General R. L. Maitland came into being, expected a stiff battle at the polls.

Prince Rupert, he said, had always been a close district. Besides the Liberal and Conservative party organizations, both the C.C.F. and L.P.P. are organized indicating a four-way battle.

Mr. Pattullo is the only person to announce his intention to seek election.

Possession of a house on Gorge Road by Sept. 15 was granted Tika Harnam Singh by Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court chambers Tuesday morning on the ground that the tenant was in default with the May rent.

Fate of Dogfish Liver Industry, Worth Millions to B.C., Clouded

Fate of British Columbia's war-born dogfish liver industry, which was worth several million dollars last year and which supplied a livelihood to scores of fishermen, was doubtful today.

G. F. Alexander, assistant provincial fisheries commissioner, said today there were some who felt that dogfish livers, used to vitamin-enrich certain foods, would no longer be in demand as certain war substitute foods are replaced by their peacetime equivalents.

On the other hand, Mr. Alexander said, others feel that the public, educated and propagandized during wartime of the importance of vitamins will retain this vitamin-consciousness which will result in a general increased demand for vitamins and keep the B.C. dogfish liver industry going.

Dogfish livers are rich in vitamin A and were used extensively to enrich margarine and other substitute foods consumed in Britain. Whether increase of the world's supply of butter will cut out the one big consumer of dogfish liver oil is not known.

TUNA CATCH UP
Mr. Alexander said early uncorrelated reports indicated that the value of B.C.'s tuna catch this year would probably far exceed the big catch taken in 1944. Not only were there more employed in fishing tuna in the Japanese current off the B.C. coast this year but the catches were reported bigger, he said.

Tuna fishing is another industry which could be wiped out or moderated by postwar conditions and controls.

Because the price ceiling for retelling canned tuna is so low, no British Columbia fish canning firms take tuna. At present most if not all of the B.C. caught tuna is going to U.S. markets.

Governor-General Wanted By Four Out of Five Canadians

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION
TORONTO—Prior to the naming of Canada's 17th Governor-General, the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion found the following to be the state of national opinion towards this historic office.

In spite of the claims sometimes heard, there is no strong desire to abolish the office among Canadian voters. Only one in five favors abolition of the office.

Largest single group of Canadians (but less than an over-all majority) would have liked to have seen a Canadian in this office, and the suggestion was made by some that the duties be assumed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court—a non-political office.

About seven in 10 adult Canadians can correctly name the Earl of Athlone as Governor-General for the past five years.

It should be stressed that these results have no bearing on the popularity of the new Governor-General, Sir Harold Alexander, because of the fact that the interviewing was done before the announcement of his appointment.

The DOCTOR Says:

CHANGE IN WAY OF LIVING MAY ELIMINATE UNDERWEIGHT
By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

While leanness is desirable as we grow older, marked underweight at any age should be corrected. There are not as many diseases associated with underweight as with overweight, but excessive thinness is the cause of fatigue and nervousness, and it makes us more susceptible to disease. Tuberculosis is associated with underweight, although those of normal weight and above normal weight may contract this disease if exposed to an open case.

Underweights either do not get enough food of the right kind, or they use up too much energy, or both. Weight can be increased by eating more food, or by resting more. A noted political leader who has scruples against eating too much is said to have discovered that he was losing weight, and he and his followers became alarmed about his condition. Instead of eating more, he rested more and in a short time regained the lost pounds. To gain weight we must change our way of living as well as our eating habits.

Underweight may result from a disorder which interferes with assimilation of food or from actual disease. Underweight should have the benefit of a thorough physical examination. If disease is not present, in the majority of instances, eating too little will be the cause.

NO COMPARISON
Most underweights believe themselves to be hearty eaters, because they compare the amount of food they eat with the amount others eat and conclude that food cannot be responsible for their underweight as they are already eating a great deal. We cannot compare our food needs with those of other people because we all differ in our energy expenditures or in the way in which we assimilate our food.

To gain weight the diet should be stepped up 500 to 1,500 calories a day in addition to the food you are now eating. Drink an extra quart of pasteurized milk each day and this will add 700 calories. Eat fatty meats, rich salad dressings, and gravies, cream soups, desserts and ice cream. Fresh fruits and vegetables will stimulate your appetite.

Do not eat between meals as this may take away your appetite, but eat before you go to bed. Get a good sleep each night and learn to relax and you will gain weight if there is no organic cause for your thinness. Certain drugs have been used as artificial appetite stimulants, but after they were discontinued the extra weight was lost, as the old eating habits were resumed.

Supplies Dropped To War Prisoners

GUAM (AP)—Forty-one Superfortresses today dropped more than 140 tons of supplies to 23 Japanese prisoners of war camps. They parachuted their "mercy bombs" over stockades around Tokyo, Yokohama, Osaka, Aichi on Honshu Island and Fukuoka on Kyushu in Japan proper and other camps in Korea. Eight planes made the Korea flight, while the others went to Honshu and Kyushu.

Other Superfortresses photographed still more prisoner camps for future attention.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tokyo radio said today in an English-language broadcast beamed to North America that a woman-prisoner-of-war was killed instantly and two Japanese civilians were injured seriously when struck by falling drums containing relief supplies dropped from Allied planes at Fukushima City.

The broadcast was recorded here by the Federal Communications Commission.

JOKESTER IN GERMANY MADE PHOTOGRAPH OF "EGGS" LAID BY CHAMOIS

Sometimes we may hear a person say, "I will believe it when I see it."

That sounds as though the person is on solid ground, and usually he is. Yet at certain times a person makes a mistake when he thinks he sees a thing happen.

A photograph may seem to be a good proof of an event, but there are "trick" photographs, as well as "tricks." Take, for example, a type of postal which appeared in Bavaria during times of peace. This showed a mother chamois, or "shammy," standing near several large eggs. One of the eggs was partly broken, and just above the opening a baby chamois showed its head, as if it were coming from the egg!

The actual photograph of the scene, which appeared on the postal, seemed to prove that the chamois had laid the eggs. We know, of course, that animals of this kind are mammals, and their young are born alive. The photograph was "faked." Before it was taken, some jokester made false eggs, with what appeared to be the head of a baby chamois poking from one of them. These were placed near a living chamois and the photograph was the result.

The spelling "shammy" is accepted by modern dictionaries. Almost everyone in English-speaking parts of the world pronounces its name that way. Yet the old French spelling of "chamois" is used commonly.

The chamois is an antelope, and lives on certain mountains of Europe. It is fairly common in the Bavarian Alps, and also is found in Austria, Switzerland, Greece and northern Spain.

A chamois herd may have as many as 100 members. They go high in the mountains during summer, and climb steep slopes. They are expert jumpers and are said to be able to jump over a wall 14 feet high. Certainly they leap across ravines from 16 to 18 feet wide.

A chamois grows to the size of a large goat. Both males and females have hooked horns on their heads.

In summer a chamois is reddish brown, along with some yellow fur. In winter the color is dark brown and white.

Some men hunt the chamois. The flesh is used as food, and the hides are turned into soft leather known as "shammy skin." At present much so-called shammy skin leather is made from the hides of sheep and goats.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

I KNEW A MIDGET THAT FELL FOR A BEARDED LADY, SO I GUESS WE'VE ALL GOT WICKEDNESSES—BUT IT MURKES HOW YOU CAN ROOST IN THAT ROOMFUL OF SOILED SHIRTS YOU CALL THE OWLS CLUB—ON A STEAMING NIGHT, TOO!

LOOK FOR YOU'RE BEING KID-NAPE!

OH DADDY, WILL YOU BRING ME A GLASS OF WATER?!

TAFFY, WHY MUST YOU ALWAYS WAKE ME UP FOR A GLASS OF WATER?!

YOU'RE JUST BEING SPOILED!

WHY DADDY—I THOUGHT AN ONLY CHILD WAS SUPPOSED TO BE SPOILED!

WHY DO YOU ALWAYS HANG YOUR COAT OVER A CHAIR? YOU'VE GOT TO COAT-HANGERS!

WHAT DO YOU DO WITH THEM? I BOUGHT YOU A DOZEN ONLY A WHILE AGO!

HERE THEY ARE—ALL IN YOUR CLOSET. YOU'RE USING 'EM FOR YOUR THINGS!

NATURALLY, I PICK THEM UP AFTER YOU THROW THEM ALL OVER THE HOUSE!

THE FOLLOWING DAY: HERE! I BOUGHT YOU SOME MORE CLOTHES-HANGERS AND HERE! I GOT YOU SOME MORE SO I CAN HAVE NINE BACK!

YANKEE BOMBERS ARE GONE, BUT THE SKY IS FULL OF THEIR CONTEMPIBLE LEAFLETS!

THEY HAVE ANSWERED MY CALL FOR HELP! THEIR REPLY, IN CODE, IS IN THOSE LEAFLETS!

START MEN COLLECTING THEM AT ONCE... AND WATCHING FOR CITIZENS WHO FAIL TO TURN THEM IN TO THE POLICE!

HERE'S A FEW I PICKED UP ON THE ROOF ESTERDAY!

HUMPH! PAPER INSTRUCT JAPANESE TO INFORM AGAINST SOLDIERS WHO CONTINUE RESISTANCE AGAINST YANKES!

EVEN WITH HOSTILITIES ENDED, TINA FACES DEATH AS A SPY UNLESS THESE SCRAPS OF PAPER CAN AID HER ESCAPE!

ROD SIMPLY CANT UNDERSTAND WHY WE CANT BE MARRIED THIS INSTANT!

WE HAVE TO WAIT UNTIL WE'VE BEEN MARRIED FIRST! WE'VE BEEN MARRIED FIRST!

ABOUT THE EARLIEST LET ME SEE—HOW ABOUT OCTOBER THE SECOND?

OUR WAY

WHOOH—AWP—AP! WHY, EVEN FROM HERE THAT AWFUL OLD PIPE SINGS ME. TURNS MY STUMMICK, MAKES ME DIZZY AN' VIOLENT ILL AN'—AWP!

GEE, POP, I DON'T KNOW WHERE MY ALLOWANCE HAS
